There are three hundred forty five (345) eligible lay delegates.

There are a total of four hundred forty eight (444) clergypersons canonically resident in the Episcopal Church in Connecticut.

The roll of the clergy canonically resident in the diocese and entitled to seat and vote at the annual convention on 26 and 27 of October 2019 is a total of two hundred ninety four (294) clergy delegates.

In addition to the above clergy, there are one hundred fifty (150) clergypersons canonically resident in the diocese who are not entitled to a seat and vote by reason of not complying with Article II of the Constitution.

CLERGY – Detail is attached. Information provided by CPG of clergy canonically resident in Connecticut did not include orders. As the requirements for eligibility to vote does not differ, this was not a problem. Those eligible to vote are classified as either Voting or Excused. (Being excused does not forfeit eligibility to vote.)

Also, with the addition of the new ECCT database, additional clergy (not previously counted – largely ineligible/inactive) are included in the list of canonically resident clergy.

CLERGY WITHOUT VOTE – See Attached Lists. Those ineligible to vote are listed as Ineligible or Inactive.
