

EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN CONNECTICUT

PARTICIPATING IN GOD'S MISSION

Reimagining the Episcopal Church in Connecticut FAQs

Q. What is changing?

A. Deaneries (the current 14 regional organizations that currently elect members to the Executive Council and the Board of the Missionary Society) are being replaced by six Regions. The current Executive Council and Board of the Missionary Society is being replaced by the Mission Council. We are also formally recognizing Ministry Networks and the role that they play in the life of ECCT.

Q. What is the Mission Council and who will be its members?

A. The Mission Council is the body charged with ensuring that the decisions of the annual convention are implemented and with making any needed decisions between conventions. It replaces the current Executive Council and Board of the Missionary Society.

- Its members include two members (one clergy; one lay) selected by each Region
- There will also be a total of nine members from the Ministry Networks
 - A slate of at least double the number of open positions will be selected from candidates put forward by Ministry Networks by a committee composed of the Bishops and others.
 - The Ministry Network Mission Council candidates will be elected by the Annual Convention.
- Members of the Mission Council also include the Bishops and officers of ECCT.
- Mission Council members will serve rotating three-year terms and serve no more than two consecutive terms.
- All Mission Council members must be members of the Episcopal Church in Connecticut and be prepared to serve all of ECCT, not just their Region or Ministry Network.

Q. What is a Region?

A. A Region is the common witness of a geographic area in ECCT.

- There are six geographic region link to Region Maps and lists
- Each Region provides a lay and clergy representative to the Mission Council.
- Each Region will establish its own leadership structure
- Each Region will have and select a Region Missionary (funded by the ECCT)
- Each Region will meet at least once a year to raise up members for the Mission Council and possibly more often as the Region determines.
- Each Region's purpose is to allow its worshipping communities to work collaboratively with each other as directed by the Holy Spirit.
- Regions are primarily organized geographically; the Mission Council will approve requests for a parish to change its Region.

Q. What is a Region Missionary?

A. A Region Missionary is has the assignment of helping the people, parishes, worshipping communities and Ministry Networks in a Region to catalyze, connect, convene and build capability. They can be lay or ordained.

- The ECCT is funding the Region Missionaries as part-time positions.
- Each Region will define the job description of its Region Missionary specific to its context and culture and select its own Region Missionary.
- The Region Missionary appointments will be confirmed by the Mission Council.

Q. What is a Ministry Network?

A. A Ministry Network is a group of individuals from more than one Episcopal parish or worshipping community who are collaborating on a ministry serving God's mission. Ministry Networks can include participants from outside of ECCT. The possibilities for these ministries are wide open!

- A Ministry Network self-identifies; they designate their own convener, set their own expectations and their own goals.
- Ministry Network activities can include (but are not limited to) sharing best practices, planning public forums/workshops as well as activities directly related to their particular ministries.
- There will be an annual opportunity for Ministry Networks to nominate someone from their network to be a candidate to the Mission Council. Ministry Networks can and do request funding from the ECCT (not all receive grants) and can apply for non-ECCT funding that may be available to their specific ministry.
- Current Deaneries that meet the definition of a Ministry Network can go forward as a Ministry Network.

Q. So how do we organize all of this?

A. Convocations!

- Each Region will have its own convocation; at least one of our Bishops and members of the TRECT-CT3 team will be present to facilitate.
- There will also be a Convocation for Ministry Networks.
- Each Convocation will be designed with the help of members from the Region to reflect the character and interests of the Region.
- The desired outcome for each convocation is for the Body of Christ in the Region to come together to begin to build a structure and organization that will enable them to catalyze, connect, convene and build capability in the worshipping communities, various ministries and people of the region. Specific goals for each convocation are to:
 - Begin to design an organization that will allow all the members to communicate and work together in God's mission. This structure will be designed by the Region and as such, will probably be very different from Region to Region.
 - Select to initial members (one lay; one clerical) to serve on the Mission Council. Again, how these members are selected will and will vary from Region to Region.
 - Develop a job description for the Region Missionary; Region Missionaries should be selected, if at all possible, by July 1st.
- The TREC-CT3 facilitators will provide tools to help the Regions meet these goals. Various examples of governance structures and human resources job descriptions will be provided.

Q. Who Should Come?

A. Everyone! Anyone and EVERY one active in a ministry or who is being nudged by the Holy Spirit. Wardens. Vestry Members. Priests. Don't limit your participation to the previously elected Deanery and Annual Convention Delegates. These Regions are brand new and will have a brand new way of operating.
